[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

BEECHER-TILTON

Tilton Will not Compromise

NEW YORK, August 13.—Tilton declares emphatically that he will not compromise with Beecher.

Perplexing Movements of the Investigating Committee

NEW YORK, August 13.—Mr. Winslow, of the Plymouth Church Investigating Committee, said that it had been arranged that Moulton's statement should not be made public until Beecher's statement had been heard by the Committee, when both statements will be published. It is stated that Moulton, Tilton and Judge Morris have all left town. The movements of the Beecher Investigating Committee are daily becoming more complicated and wrapped up and veiled in impenetrable mystery, as this evening, for the fourth time, no trace could be found of them. Visits were paid by members of the press to Shearman's and Dr. Storrs' residences, but no clue to their whereabouts could be obtained. Mr. Beecher's house in Columbia Heights was fixed upon as the only place where the Committee were likely to be, and the sidewalks in consequence were thronged with newspaper representatives. About 9 o'clock Hall drove up his carriage accompanied by a strange gentleman and entered the house. Mr. Willard O. Bartlett and Mr. Shearman had entered a short time before. Most of the members of the Committee were observed to enter, and it is supposed they had gone there at an early hour. The Committee adjourned about half past eleven but would give no information as to their movements. Moulton's statement, however, they said would not be made public to-night, nor could they say when it would be ready. It is not known whether Beecher was before the Committee, its members being reticent on this and every other question of like import.

Passionate, of Course.

CHICAGO, August 13.—The Tribune this morning publishes the marital correspondence of Mr. and Mrs. Tilton extending over a period of four years and up to within three months of Mrs. Tilton's alleged confession. It covers over four pages of the paper and shows most passionate affection on the part of both writers. There appears no doubt of the authenticity of the letters.

Mr. Beecher Presents his Statement.

NEW YORK, August 13—2:30 P. M.—At this hour it has just been made known that the Plymouth Church Investigating Committee met in the back parlor of Beecher's residence at 10 o'clock this morning and that two stenographers are present. Beecher sat with the Committee and made his statements from notes which he held. He answered questions put by members of the Committee upon each point presented in the charges made by Tilton. At noon the examination was interrupted by lunch and was resumed at 1 o'clock. At this hour Beecher is still under examination.

Mayor Havemeyer's Case.

NEW YORK, August 13.—Gov. Dix has asked the Aldermen who lately preferred charges against Mayor Havemeyer if they desire an investigation. They reply in the negative and hold that the admission of the Mayor that their charges are true makes up a case, and it only remains for the Governor to act upon the charges and the answer.

Fleet as the Wind—Goldsmith Maid Trots a Mile in 2:14 3-4

ROCHESTER, August 13.—In the race here yesterday Goldsmith Maid trotted a mile in 2:14¾. She was pitted against American Girl and Judge Fullerton.

A Sound Indian Policy.

CHICAGO, August 13.—News from various parts of the Indian country indicates that the Cheyennes, Comanches and Kiowas, seeing the formidable preparations made to punish them for their recent depredations, ask for peace and for the military to call it even. Orders have, however, been issued not to let these hostile bands enter reservations, but for troops to follow and punish them wherever found.

Railway Casualty and Loss of Life.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., August 13.—The night express from Boston to Montreal was wrecked this morning a few miles north of Richford, Vt. The following persons are reported killed: Engineer Larcot, roadmaster C. S. Harris, conductor Quimby, the fireman and a little girl. A wrecking train and two physicians have gone to the scene of the disaster. More than 20 persons are reported injured.

Great Oil Fire in Pittsburgh, Pa.

PITTSBURGH, August 12.—The Standard Oil Works and National Refinery were struck by lightning to-night, which immediately ignited the buildings, and thousands of barrels of oil were burned. Loss $40,000 to $55,000; insurance $20,000.

PITTSBURGH, August 13.—The damage by the fire at the Fairview Oil Refinery last night is greater than at first supposed. Two thousand one hundred barrels of crude oil were destroyed and much other property. Total loss $60,000 to $75,000; insurance $50,000.

What Spotted Tail's Band Think.

OMAHA (Neb.), August 12.—A courier from Spotted Tail agency says the band refuses to occupy the new reservation and are highly indignant at the proposal. They think Custer is making a movement to crush them.

Drowned while Bathing.

CONCORD, N. H., August 13.—Jesse Pierce, Herbert Foltz and George Desmond, young men of East Boston, were drowned at Central Harbor yesterday while bathing.

Renomination of General Garfield

PAINESVILLE, O., August 13.—The Republican Congressional Convention here to-day nominated Gen. J. A. Garfield.

Boston Wool Market

BOSTON, August 12.—There is a steady demand for all desirable kinds of wool and the market is firm. Combing and delaine selections are very much wanted and sales are readily made at 60@62 cents as to quality for washed, and 40@41 cents for unwashed. But there is now very little offering, and receivers very generally decline to sell for delivery ahead. The stock of California wool has been considerably reduced by large transactions for some time past, and sales have been moderate at 30@40c as to quality.

Good for England, France and Germany.

MADRID, August 12.—The Imparcial reports that England, France and Germany have formally recognized the Spanish republic.

Change in the Madrid Cabinet Probable.

LONDON, August 12.—A change in the Ministry is imminent at Madrid. It is thought General Dominguez, who took Cartagena, will become Minister of War. Gen. Moriones will be placed in supreme command of the army of the north.

PARIS, August 12.—The Spanish representative at Paris has applied to Madrid for full credentials as Minister. France has declared her readiness to recognize him.

MADRID, August 13.—The report that a crisis in the Cabinet is imminent is contradicted.

The Republican troops commanded by Marshal Saballo and General Lozarra have been united at Meranda, where they are confronted by 18 battalions of Carlists.

VIENNA, August 13.—The new Free Press states that England has recognized the Republic of Spain.

Discussion on Bazaine's Escape

The Journal des Debats argues that the crime of which Bazaine was convicted renders him liable to extradition, and that France should demand his surrender.

The Brussels Congress

BRUSSELS, August 13.—The International Congress will adjourn at the end of this or the beginning of next week.

Blood-curdling Rumors from Rome.

ROME, August 12.—The police have discovered a secret deposit of arms in Ravenna and have seized five chests of rifles.

Grasshopper Ravages in Nebraska

OMAHA, August 12.—Grasshoppers in the extreme Southwest have nearly ruined the crops and destroyed the grass, so that cattle and hogs are starving. Relief movements are being made here.

Jack and his Bean Stalk Disappear.

MEMPHIS, July 13.—Everything is quiet at Austin and the troops have disbanded.

The English Wheat Crop

LONDON, August 13.—The Mark Lane Express says that we are now in the middle of harvest, and the new wheat crop shows nothing to indicate more than average quality and growth. Some fields show premature ripening.

Good for Bismarck

BERLIN, August 13.—Bismarck has returned from Kissingen.

Fire at Montreal

MONTREAL, August 13.—A fire to-day destroyed seven tenement houses and rendered thirty families homeless. Loss $8,000.

A SNAKE STORY.—Rattlesnake bites have been of frequent occurrence lately in some parts of Mariposa county. A Mexican boy at Indian gulch a few days ago cut a snake in two with a shovel, but the half with the head attached crawled into a hole. The boy tried to pull it out and was bitten. He lies in a critical condition.

CRICKET TOURNAMENT.—Preparations for the cricket tournament at Halifax are complete. Matches will commence on the 18th. There will be four teams, consisting of Canada, England, America and Halifax. The English team is composed of officers of the army. The American team comes from Philadelphia.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, August 13.—Dr. Terris reported to the Coroner this afternoon the death of Edward P. Stebbins from opium poison. Deceased was a native of Michigan, and was 35 years of age.

Mrs. A. B. Read, residing on Market near Fifteenth street, died last evening from the effects of a cut across her arm above the elbow, severing an artery and veins. The wound was made by herself with a razor. It is supposed she was laboring under mental aberration when she committed the act.

The Chinese crew engaged on the steamship Colorado inaugurated a strike this morning and caused a delay of the steamer. At three o'clock she was still at the dock awaiting the procurement of a new crew. The clerks at the office of the Company stated at a later hour that the steamer had got away.

The steamer Colorado took 400 passengers, 32 in the cabin; also $358,000 treasure and 300 tons freight.

Michael H. Gillespie, Peter McGrath and Sarah Martin were committed to the insane asylum to-day.

Several missionaries left on the steamer Colorado for China to-day.

A meeting of the Yellow Jacket stockholders will be held next Wednesday to consider the proposition to quadruple the capital stock.

Interior California.

SACRAMENTO, August 13.—A certificate of the change of place of business of Kennedy Mining Co. from Jackson, Amador county, to San Francisco, was filed in the office of the Secretary of State to-day.

Articles of incorporation of the Empire and Middletown Consolidated Quicksilver Mining Co. were filed in the office of the Secretary of State to-day. Capital stock $5,000,000. Shares $100 each.

STOCKTON, August 13.—At an early hour this morning John Zeh, aged 53, a native of Germany, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a shot gun. Deceased has been suffering mentally for some time and frequently threatened to shoot himself. On his body was found a letter to a friend as follows: "Forgive me that I have taken this step; my sickness was incurable. I have been treated by physicians in San Francisco and Stockton, and instead of improving in health I am getting worse than a cripple. I do not wish to live. It was a severe task to take my life, but then I am released from my sufferings. * * * (Signed) John Zeh. Born July, 1821, at Zeckbach, near Frankfort on the Maine." The Coroner's inquest was that the deceased ended his life by shooting himself.

DAFT BLACKIE OF EDINBURGH UNIVERSITY

[From London Cor. Chicago Tribune.]

Our attention was next arrested by a line of urchins walking along in a dazed, unsteady manner in exaggerated mockery of a tall ungainly figure at their head. I inquired of a woman at the door of one of the houses, who was calling upon the children to mind their manners and leave a poor daft gentleman gang his ain gate, who the crazy man was. "Sure he's no a crazy man; it's Daft Blackie fra the University." "Prof. Blackie!" exclaimed our escort, "impossible! What is he doing here?" "Ask the same question of himsel' and he'll no tell ye, and he's as like to stop at Grayfriars Kirk or the top of Salisbury Crags as the University, for his night's lodging." Our friend explained to us that this was indeed Professor Blackie—one of the greatest classical scholars of our time and a member of the faculty of Edinburgh University, noted in the city for his absent mindedness, and known to the poor as "Daft Blackie." He told us an anecdote of his peculiarity which proved him less a dreamer than many would otherwise suppose. He was visiting in the neighborhood of Lord Campbell's estate one summer, and during one of his walks wandered quite near the family mansion. His Lordship, chancing to stumble upon the old gentleman, expressed his astonishment and pleasure at finding him in that part of the world, saying at the same time, "I believe you don't know me, Professor?" "That's not to be wondered at," replied the old heathen. "There's more fools know Daft Blackie than Daft Blackie knows." His gruff response, however, did not forfeit him the friendship of the Campbells. They insisted upon his remaining with them the rest of the summer and did all in their power to make his stay agreeable, and that is best done by leaving him alone.

A BURMAN OATH.—I will speak the truth. If I speak not the truth may it be by the influence of the laws of demerit—passion, anger, folly, pride, false opinion, immodesty, hard heartedness and skepticism—so that when I and my relations are on land, land animals—as tigers, elephants, buffaloes, poisonous serpents, scorpions—shall seize, crush and bite us, so that we shall certainly die. Let the calamities occasioned by fire, water, rulers, thieves and enemies depress and destroy us till we perish and come to utter destruction. Let us be subject to all calamities that are within the body and all that are without the body. May we be seized with madness, dumbness, blindness, deafness, leprosy and hydrophobia. May we be struck with thunderbolts and lightning, come to sudden death. In the midst of not speaking truth may I be taken with vomiting clotted black blood, and suddenly die before the assembling people. When I am going by water, may the water spirits assault me, and the boat be upset and property lost, and may alligators, porpoises, sharks and other sea monsters seize and crush me to death; and when I change worlds may I not arrive among men or angels, but suffer unmixed punishment among the four states of punishment, Hell, Preta, Beasts and Athurakai.—Friend of India.

IT DIDN'T WORK WELL.—A lady acquaintance read the following paragraph in a paper: "A young wife once cured her husband of a disposition to absent himself from home at night by providing a good dinner and saying to him afterwards, 'George, if you find a sweeter spot than our home, describe it to me, and I will rival it if I die in the attempt.' A kiss and a few tears completed the victory." This lady acquaintance tried the game on her husband. He wasn't melted a bit. He merely said: "When you can get the boys to come here and smoke cigars and talk politics, and you set up a keg of lager, you can count me in. I like the company of the boys, I do." Our lady saw that sentiment had no effect on him. So she didn't throw her arms around his neck and hug and wet his paper collar with her tears, but she took a saucer and fired it at his head, and followed it up with a cup, and ended it by slinging a dish of strawberries on his shirt bosom. Since that time he has been an exemplary husband. Yet he does seem anxious for her to visit her dear mother as often as four or five times a week.

BY RAIL TO THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS.—Topeka, Kan., August 4.—The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad will soon be extended to Pueblo, Colorado. The line locally known as the Pueblo and Salt Lake Railroad is now under contract and will be rapidly built east to connect with the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad at Granada, the present terminus of the latter road. This will make a continuous line of railroad under one direction from the Missouri river at Atchison to the foot of the Rocky mountains.

CASEY IN THE TREASURY OF LOUISIANA.—New Orleans, August 8.—The Republican State Convention this afternoon nominated Antoine Dubuclet for State Treasurer, which is a victory for the Casey-Pinchback faction. The Convention adjourned sine die. The nominations will receive the united support of the party.

The Republicans of the Sixth District have nominated C. S. Nash (colored) for Congress.

CHURCH SCANDAL TO BE COMPROMISED.—A rumor is circulated in Jersey City that the late scandal on the Hights is about to be settled by the marriage of the chief actors—Rev. J. S. Glendenning and Miss Mary D. Pomeroy.

KOSSUTH.

HE IS DENOUNCED AS A GREAT FRAUD

The ruling element in Austria, as remarked, is German, which numbers 10,000,000 of the 20,000,000. But there are 4,000,000 of Bohemians, as many millions of Poles and Ruthenians, besides 1,000,000 of Croats, and 1,000,000 of Italians—each race speaking a different language. In Hungary the Magyars—who are sprung from the same stock as the Turks—number 5,500,000, while the Sclavonic races, called Servians, Bulgarians, Sclavonians and several others, number about 10,000,000. The Magyars constitute the aristocracy, own nearly all the land, enjoy all the special privileges and hold all the others in both State and Church.

The Sclavonic tribes have been purposely kept in ignorance and degradation, and consequently in poverty and a condition of serfdom. The orator Kossuth, who declaimed so fervently about liberty throughout the United States a quarter of a century ago, was a Magyar leader whose political scheme or platform consisted of dismemberment of the Empire, independence of the Emperor, and domination of the Magyar aristocracy. I was carried away by the eloquent declamations, touching protestations and pathetic appeals of this visionary demagogue, and gave him money, like other simpletons, which he squandered in supporting his dissipated, dissolute body guard of young bloods, who followed him round the country in long spurred boots, drinking costly champagne, eating bird suppers, smoking fragrant Havana cigars and smashing hotel furniture and mirrors, and all at the expense of a sympathizing and deluded public, who shed copious tears over the wrongs and oppressions (?) of Hungary—i. e., Magyar aristocracy.

The whole thing was about the same as if the Irish landlords should revolt against Queen Victoria and undertake to set up another dynasty in the name of liberty, while not a word was uttered or an act done to better the condition of the miserable rack-rent tenants who tilled the soil and lived in destitution, while the landlords enjoyed the fruit of their toil and self denial. The whole thing was the greatest imposition and fraud ever perpetrated upon the American people in the name of liberty.—Hon. Joseph Medill in Chicago Tribune.

DOBSON AND HIS BLANKETS

At the recent lettings of the contracts for the annual supplies for the Indian Bureau, at New York, the contract for blankets was let at an exceedingly low rate—so low indeed that the competing blanket manufacturing firms admitted that the bid which was accepted by the Government must be fifteen per cent less than the actual cost of the blankets. Yet none of the competing bidders objected to the award that was made, or questioned the responsibility of the bidders. The conditions which led to this low bid, and which resulted in this loss of fifteen per cent to the manufacturers, illustrates the instability of Government contracts. The blanket contract was awarded to Mr. Dobson, of Philadelphia, a very large and entirely responsible manufacturer. It appears that for a considerable number of years Mr. Dobson has been successful in securing the contract for supplying the Indians with blankets. He has always furnished a good article and been able to command a fair price. His confidence in his ability to retain his contract, it seems, was so great that last Summer he laid in a large stock of wool and manufactured the usual quantity of blankets required for the Indian service, in the expectation that he would receive the contract this year. He was so confident of this that he caused to be wrought in the blankets the monogram "U. S. I. D."—United States Interior Department—in a somewhat elaborate way. This monogram would be of good service to the Government on the supposition that the blankets would ever belong to the Government, but it would be a very great injury to the manufacturer in case the Government should not choose to buy the blankets. When the time for the bidding arrived Mr. Dobson discovered that the competition was likely to be greater than any previous year, and in order without fail to insure the sale of the large quantity of excellent blankets that would have been worthless for the general trade, he put in a bid at 15 per cent less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the blankets. The Government can congratulate itself on having secured for the Indians this year a blanket at which the most fastidious might not complain, and at 15 per cent below cost.—New York Times.

JOKES BY CONTRACT.—An exchange thinks that the great American joker writes too much, and claims that the deterioration which it notices in the later productions of Bret Harte, Mark Twain, the Danbury News Man, Josh Billings et al, is due to this cause. Brain production is not merely a mechanical operation—a sitting down and grinding out good things to order. On the contrary, we believe that such matters ought to be the result of inspiration—in fact a really well told story or manufactured joke is the result of accident or inspiration. Bret Harte never made a greater mistake than when he vacated his position on the Overland Monthly and came East to set himself up as a humorous or unique writer. The "Heathen Chinee" made him famous, and he has since produced nothing that will equal it. Mark Twain's "Roughing It" is the best of all his productions, yet he didn't know his writings were really humorous until that work had been generally read throughout the land. The "Innocents Abroad" was good though not excellent, while the "Gilded Age," by him and Dudley Warner, is simply non est of that quality which the best of men do not relish. It is barely possible that it was gotten out to test the gullibility of Americans, as its authors now claim it was, but even in that case it is "gilded" rather thinly. Since the Danbury News became celebrated as a humorous paper, and has been affected thereby, it seems to us that it has printed scarcely anything to speak of worth reproducing. Even the small fry country press has ceased stealing its jokes, although it yet gets the credit of a good many funny things which others produce. It may be, however, that its jokes are as rich as ever, but that people look for such excessively funny sayings that anything falling short of their anticipations causes disappointment, and is considered mediocre or below.

GOLDSMITH MAID AND THE BABIES.—The Jackson (Mich.) Citizen contains the following: When Goldsmith Maid came round the third time, and the time being 2:16, there was a universal uprising on the grand stand, accompanied by huzzas and the waving of handkerchiefs. The ladies appeared to be more enthusiastic than the men. A gentleman states that on turning around he saw a woman near him waving her handkerchief with all her might, but upon looking down he saw her baby lying at her feet and beginning to cry. "Madame," said he, "your child," pointing to it. "Oh," said she, "I forgot all about the baby, but it makes no difference; I expect to have several babies, but I never expect to see another Goldsmith Maid."

A Boston artist who excels as an animal painter, saw, as he was passing through one of the rural towns of Massachusetts, a very animated looking bull. Thinking he would like to take him on canvas, he got permission of the owner, an honest old farmer, and in due time produced an excellent likeness of the bull, which he sold for $200. On seeing the farmer soon after he told him he had sold the picture of his bull for $200. "Good gracious!" said the old man, "why, I would have sold the bull for less than that."

The District Court commenced a session at Steilacoom, W. T., last Monday, Judge Jacobs presiding. The third day of September next was fixed by the Court for the execution of G. Lytle, under sentence of death for murder. There are some 42 civil cases on the docket and some 8 or 10 criminal, and it is thought the whole time allowed by law will be occupied in dispensing justice.

THE BLACK HILLS EXPEDITION

CUSTER'S ACCOUNT OF THAT WONDERFUL COUNTRY

NEW YORK, August 9.—A Tribune correspondent with the Black Hills expedition writes from within two miles of the south fork of Cheyenne river, August 3, giving the following summary of Custer's official report to date from July 16th:

"Starting from Prospect Valley, Dakota, the expedition moved in a southwesterly direction until it reached the valley of the Little Missouri, up which we moved 20 miles. The valley is almost destitute of grass. From the Little Missouri to the Valley of Belle Fourche the country was generally barren and uninviting. Belle Fourche was reached on the 18th of July, and good grass, water and wood were abundant. From this point, just west of the line separating Dakota from Wyoming, we began a march through the outlying ranges of hills. The country is a very superior one, covered with excellent grass and having an abundance of timber, principally pine, oak and poplar. On the 22d of July we halted and encamped within forty miles of a prominent peak in Wyoming, called Inyan Kara, 6,600 feet high, which peak we ascended, lying over here one day. The expedition then turned due east and attempted a passage of the Black Hills. After a short march we came into a most beautiful valley. 'Its equal,' said General Custer, 'I have never seen.' Such, too, was the testimony of all those who beheld the panorama spread out before us. Every step of our march that day was amidst flowers of the most exquisite color and perfume, some belonging to new or unclassified species. The water in the streams stood at 44°. This beautiful vale was named Floral Valley. We followed this valley to the top of the western ridge of the Black Hills, winding our way through a little park of great natural beauty. On the 30th we camped within four miles of the western base of Harney's Peak, which the next day General Custer ascended with engineers and a small escort. The peak was the highest point in the Black Hills. This morning two companies under Col. Hart were dispatched to extend our explorations in a southerly direction to the south fork of the Cheyenne. To-morrow General Custer with five companies of cavalry will endeavor to reach the same stream in a southwesterly direction from Harney's Peak."

The correspondent adds: "In no portion of the United States, not excepting the famous blue grass region of Kentucky, have I ever found grazing superior to that which grows wild in these hitherto unknown regions. I know of no portions of our country where Nature has done so much to prepare homes for husbandmen and left so little for them to do, as here. Everything indicates an abundance of moisture within the space occupied by the Black Hills. Gold has been found in several places, and it is the opinion of those who are giving attention to the subject that it will be discovered in paying quantities. I have upon my table forty or fifty small particles of pure gold, in size about that of a small pin head. Most of it was obtained to-day from a single pan of earth, but as we have not remained longer at any camp than one day it will be readily understood that there is no opportunity to make satisfactory examinations in regard to deposits of valuable minerals until further investigation is had. Regarding the richness of the deposits of gold no opinion should be formed. Veins of what the geologists call gold bearing quartz crop out on every hillside."

DON CARLOS SANGUINE OF SUCCESS.—New York, August 9.—The Herald correspondent interviewed Don Carlos at Elorrio, August 4th. He said he was always glad to meet correspondents and to give publicity to truth. His enemies had reported much that was false about him and circulated absurd stories of Carlist atrocities. He did not anticipate German intervention on account of the execution of Capt. Schmidt, who was arrested under very suspicious circumstances. He regretted that his reprieve had not reached him in time, though the Spaniards did not like any meddling with their conflict. Intervention would favor him and make him the leader of the united Spanish army. Spain, impoverished by war and changes, needs a whole age to restore her needed prosperity. Tranquility was necessary to the establishment of prosperity and Government credit. His task was to restore Spain to her ancient grandeur. The Cortes should be elected fairly by the nation, should reflect the feelings and wishes of the people, and not be a mere body of factious politicians, alike powerless for good and strong for evil, promulgating doctrines for the overthrow of society and ending with barricades. He would have Spain march onward with her sister nations. When my enemies are conquered, my throne restored, and peace established, then is the time to consider education. Touching Cuba, he said he would offer free pardon and amnesty, and would guarantee a good Government devoted to the interests of the Island. He said he was opposed to slavery and would abolish it with all speed. Don Carlos is very sanguine of the success of his cause, declaring that his prospects are favorable and giving good reasons therefor.

ARREST FOR LIBEL.—Washington, August 2.—James H. Platt, Representative in Congress from Virginia, last evening caused the arrest of the local editor of a Sunday paper on the charge of criminal libel. In one or two of the previous issues the paper has intimated that it is in possession of facts concerning the complainant for which, if proved, he should be in the penitentiary. The defendant was released on bond in the sum of $5,000 for his appearance to-morrow.

A leading memorialist in connection with the late District Investigation proposes to go before the grand jury to-morrow and ask a presentment for libel against the local editor of the Chronicle. It appears that at a meeting of property holders held a fortnight ago, the defendant, in preparing a report which was printed, it is alleged, injected therein matters pertaining to the complainant's private business which did not form a part of the discussion at the meeting, but was furnished him by outside parties to do injury to the credit of the complainant. If the Poland law is operative and applies to the press, both cases can be disposed of by the police court.

PROSPECTS OF THE ANTI MONOPOLISTS IN IOWA.—Marshalltown, Iowa, August 11.—The Executive Committee of the Anti Monopoly State Central Committee and the candidates on the State ticket held a meeting here to-day. The Executive Committee were all present, and five out of the seven candidates. The campaign will be actively opened about the 1st of September. The reports from all parts of the State were very flattering, and the Committee are of the opinion that the ticket will be elected by a good round majority. The reports also indicate almost to a certainty that the Anti Monopolists will elect Congressmen in the First, Second, Third, Sixth, Seventh and Ninth Congressional Districts, with hopes of all the others. The party is thoroughly organized and united.

A WATERLOO RELIC.—The Sussex (England) Express states that on Wednesday Dr. Harding, of Wadhurst, successfully extracted a musket bullet from the hand of James Fenner, weighing over three quarters of an ounce, which was firmly imbedded in him at the battle of Waterloo. In spite of the inconvenience arising from the bullet during nearly sixty years, the man has worked uninterruptedly as an agricultural laborer in the parish, where he bears an excellent character. He is eighty years of age.

A NOTED HORSE TRAINER SHOT.—Colonel Richard Tenbroeck, the well known horse owner, was shot, and it is reported mortally wounded, at Gilman's station, near Louisville, Kentucky, recently, by General Whittaker. The particulars of the affair are not known.

WILL HE LECTURE?—Henry Ward Beecher is under contract with Mr. James Redpath for twenty lectures to be delivered in Boston and other parts of New England early in the autumn. The sum to be paid for them is said to be $5,000.

OREGON

The late rains have stopped the threshers and set the fallow plows to running.

A foundry is proposed at Dilley Station, on the west side road in Washington county.

It is reported that a marble quarry has been discovered on the head of Butte Creek, in Clackamas county.

J. McGoodman dropped dead last Monday at Cuttingsville, Clackamas county, supposed to have been from heart disease.

Mayor McCown, of Oregon City, has ordered an election for Chief Engineer of the Fire Department to be held on the 22d inst.

John Adair, Jr., of Astoria, has accepted the position of Brigadier General of State Militia, so long filled by Col. A. P. Dennison.

Mrs. Meldrum, of Oregon City, on her way to Salmon river, met with a painful accident, being thrown off the horse and painfully injuring her shoulder.

The County Court of Clackamas county has purchased of Dr. Thessing his brick in Oregon City for $8,000 in county warrants. It will be used for a Court House.

Our Washington county correspondent writes that several fields of oats on beaver dam lands are lying flat down. The damage to other grain as yet is not considerable.

A drove of about 1,100 head of sheep belonging to Messrs. J. Watt and Hamilton, of Yamhill county, passed through Forest Grove this week en route for Scappoose, Columbia county.

The Farmers' wharf at Astoria, when completed, will be the largest wharf north of San Francisco. This does not include the roadway, which is 600 feet long and can be used for wharfage purposes.

Astoria had an increase of population last week, and a local sheet goes into ecstacies over the fact. The principal portion of the increase came from Portland and left on the first steamer for the summer resorts.

Artificer Robert Roeder, of Fort Cape Disappointment, has been appointed Assistant Light-Keeper to take charge of the new fog whistle at Point Adams, provided for by Congressional appropriation, and soon to be erected.

The men employed on the new mammoth warehouse of the Salem Flouring Mills Company laid in fifteen working hours 10,400 square feet of shingles. The last hour, eight of the workmen laid 1,000 shingles each, by the watch.

Orders have been received to stop the Dunderby and Harrington at Astoria. If the grain is not forthcoming to load these vessels they will probably go on to San Francisco. If Oregon wishes to profit by the increased tonnage this year, her farmers must come out with the grain—ship or sell—one of the two—speedily.

The Enterprise says: The store of S. Ackerman, at Oregon City, was entered last Wednesday night by burglars and an attempt made to rob the safe. They effected an entrance from the back door, cutting away the brick wall each side of the bar which fastens the iron doors, and the bar not being locked, shoved it up and had no further trouble to enter. They then took an ax and attempted to open the safe, which attempt proved unsuccessful. They broke off the arm which covers the keyhole, knocked off the knobs of the door, but found this would not let them in. They then took the ax and commenced chopping through one of the lower panels, but failed in getting in. They robbed the money drawer, which contained a small sum, and took a gold watch and chain worth about $150, a silver watch and other jewelry, amounting in value to about $300.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Findlay, Durham & Brodie had 763 cases of canned salmon on board the Enterprise from Deas Fishery.

The miners' strike at Nanaimo has come to an end, the managers having conceded the point about the medical officer.

The satirical manuscript periodical the Wellington Times, published at Nanaimo, has again made its appearance, full of good hits.

The lowest bid for the removal of the rocks in Victoria harbor exceeds the amount appropriated by Parliament for that purpose.

The Free Press wants to know when the Nanaimo light house is likely to become a reality. It is certainly time the structure was going up.

The little steamer Georgia, formerly of Sembeck and owned by Capt. John Connick, was sold at Victoria last week, at a good price, to the Government.

Tehr Dovast, a French Canadian, was killed in a shaft on Conklin gulch, Cariboo, a few days ago by foul air. He was lowered into a shaft and an hour afterwards was found lying dead at the bottom.

Some burglars entered the store of Gerke & Co. at Victoria, and finding no funds apparently took their comfort smoking and drinking, as several stumps of cigars and empty brandy bottles were found scattered about in the store.

The Wm. Taber arrived at Victoria Sunday noon, August 9th, with 450 tons of freight and 80 passengers. Was to leave on Tuesday at 4 o'clock P. M. for San Francisco. Upwards of 70 passengers were booked at the office for the latter named city.

From the deck of the steamer Victoria on the Upper Frazer, when near Alexandria, a few days ago, was discovered a black bear swimming across the river. The boat was put about, the bear headed off and lassoed from the guards. He was then hauled up and dispatched with an ax.

Mr. Wardle, mail carrier, arrived at Victoria from Kootenai with a mail and express. On Perry creek the Robert and Montgomery companies are doing well. On the same creek and on the Mojoie, Chinamen are making from $4 to $6 a day. McMahon's pack train was met going in from Walla Walla. Galbraith Bros. are building a sawmill at Joseph's prairie. The roads are in good order. Gold diggings have been discovered on Salmon river, in the Colville country. Mr. Ellis, with 66 head of cattle for Victoria, was passed on the road.

EUGENE ITEMS

Our regular correspondent, writing under date of August 13th, says:

The weather keeps cloudy and damp, but the farmers go bravely on with harvest. Much grain must necessarily be lost, for the reason the straw is tough, being damp, and the grain will not thrash clean.

I. E. Stevens, living in the forks of the Willamette, thrashed a field of 40 acres which yielded him clean 35 bushels to the acre. The wheat in the forks of the Willamette and from Eugene to Junction City will yield as many bushels to the acre on an average as last year.

Madame Anna Bishop entertained the people of Eugene on last evening. She had a good house. Everybody was pleased.

So many people have gone to the mountains to fish, hunt and berry, or out in the harvest field, it makes the town look like the deserted village.

TWEED'S PRISON CELL.—Over each cell in the prison and over each bed in the hospital is suspended the occupant's "tally." It is a record of his crime, name, age, nativity, religious belief, occupation, date of conviction and his sentence. Over the head of Mr. Tweed's bed in the hospital was tacked a card bearing the following inscription:

FRIDAY MORNING AUGUST 14 1874

THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT

For a good many years an unsightly granite shaft has stood in our national capital in an unfinished state. Visitors have been told that it was a monument to the memory of one of the most illustrious of earth's heroes—George Washington first President of the Republic. Eight Congresses have met since the work was commenced. Standing within plain view of the Capitol where so many millions are squandered year by year in wasteful legislation it has been an eloquently mute witness to the selfishness or carelessness which has suffered it to remain as it is. A strong effort was made at the last session to secure an appropriation sufficient to complete it on a reduced plan. The attempt was futile although Congress did not hesitate to devote a large fraction of the sum asked for the indulgence of General Babcock's florid tastes. This miserable pile of stone and mortar has seen the rise and rule of lobbies that have purchased from Congress subsidies and grants sufficient to erect a thousand monuments like itself. Where patriotism has stood abashed and affronted, avarice and greed have triumphed.

The Washington Monument Society, in whose hands the work of completing the shaft rests have abandoned all hope of Congressional aid and, have made a final appeal to the American people. There are a dozen men in the Last who could and who doubtless might furnish the necessary funds but the Committee seem to desire that the monument should be the tribute of a people to its greatest one. They ask all societies, lodges and corporations in the United States to contribute with the understanding that no money is to be paid until the amount required—$500,000—is first pledged. When the contingent subscriptions reach that sum a call will be made for one half the amount subscribed and the remainder will be called for in six and twelve months after the first payment. It is desired that in forwarding subscriptions the form used should state that the amount will be paid as indicated when official notice is received by subscribers that the whole amount required has been pledged. The Society hope to be able to make this announcement by January 1st, 1875 and to commence work early in the coming spring. They say if all those appealed to respond promptly even in moderate sums, the completion of the monument during the centennial year will be assured. None of the subscriptions are to pass through the hands of agents. Communications and funds are to be sent directly to the Secretary Mr John Carroll Brent, Washington, D C. We think it not too much to hope for that the national pride will be stung to the quick by this appeal.

And yet we are not forgetting Washington. Oh, no, his name is still on the tongue of every Fourth of July orator. At mention of his valor the eye moistens and the bosom swells on sultry Independence Day. As of old the bells of passing steamers toll on the Potomac and men bow reverently before his grave. We exalt him with our tongues the while we pull our purse strings tighter. We have not forgotten him. We magnify his self-sacrificing zeal in the cause of independence, and rent out his tomb to an association of money changers. We point the alien to his splendid deeds, and exult in the unsullied luster of his fame. His intentions were good, we say. That's cheap. But how much will you give?

KICKING THE DEAD LION

We do not wish to be understood as saying that Mr Beecher's case is past all hope when we say that in the hour of his humiliation a good many who professed to be his most ardent admirers and staunchest friends, turn on him and say all manner of unjust things about him. Since the commencement of his recent troubles he has been arraigned on charges of heresy by the secular press denounced for latitudinarianism in his theology censured for a "rollicking oratory," and otherwise kicked and buffeted by editors and correspondents who a few months ago could see nothing but a broad philanthropy in his liberal Christianity and who esteemed his genial good-humor in the pulpit and the religious press as a welcome release from the stern, unyielding creed of the Puritan fathers. By some of these same carping critics he was looked upon as a greater than Luther. If he gave new versions to old commandments he was applauded for introducing common sense into religion. If he lifted mankind from the dust it was to place it where it might look Jehovah in the face, reverently humbly yet confidently. If he abated somewhat the rigors of Calvinism it was because he embodied the law and the Gospel in a single word—love. He preached the gospel of peace and good will. To him the All Father appeared not clothed in the thunders of Sinai, but tender compassionate and full of mercy. His divinity was not frowning but benignant. The cherubim might stand with flaming sword at the gates of Eden but beyond lay the fair land of Beulah. In this wonderful ministry preaching there was always something which led up to all that was best in the more exacting creeds of the fathers.

But we will not undertake to give a compend of all the gracious things that were said of the Plymouth pastor before he was charged with the heinous sin of which he now stands accused. It is sufficient to know that in this his day of adversity, from every quarter these fair weather friends rise up to reproach him with leaving the church from the safe old paths of orthodoxy. We are now told that he never had a reputation in the orthodox churches of deep all pervading and consistent piety and for ten or fifteen years past he was rather tolerated by the orthodox churches than indorsed by them." We do not know that Mr Beecher was ever formally indorsed by any orthodox church. Until quite recently any certificate to his "deep all pervading and consistent piety" would have been superfluous and useless. But this much is known of all men: his ministry has been a grand success; it has lost more than any other man during the nineteenth century to aid in the spread of Christianity. His name is spoken with reverence by millions to day. And if he should go down to the grave to morrow, the memory of his present shame could not quite blot out the illustrious record of his ministry in Plymouth Church.

We confess it vexes us to see these jackals of the newspaper press prowling about the unfilled grave of one of America's greatest men. They are not many as compared with the thousands who would fain keep silence in the presence of so great a calamity. It is noticeable that thus far the religious press have refrained from cowardly attacks of this kind. Denominational and personal jealousies seem to have sunk out of sight and some of Beecher's most earnest defenders are to be found in sects radically opposed to his own. Indeed, we question whether if Mr Beecher should pass unscathed through this ordeal the religious George Alfred Townsend himself would not lose some of the asceticism and severely critical spirit which pervade his recent lucubrations.

THE ROTHSCHILDS AND AMERICAN LOANS

The New York Tribune having said that the Messrs Rothschild did not invest in our Government loans during the war because they were influenced by August Belmont, the latter "consents to notice" the article by declaring that the Rothschilds did invest largely in our securities. And Mr Belmont assumes an attitude of wounded dignity, challenges the Tribune to "point out one single act or word of his, during the whole period of our national troubles which was not dictated by patriotism and devotion to our beloved Union." The Tribune responds to this challenge by asking Mr Belmont to explain how he reconciles his "patriotism and devotion" with his attitude in the darkest hour of the struggle as Chairman of the National Committee of his party, conducting a campaign for the defeat of Abraham Lincoln, on a platform that solemnly declared the war for the Union a failure." The Tribune repeats its former statement concerning the Rothschilds and our loans, and the cause of their non subscription notwithstanding the following explicit paragraph in Mr Belmont's letter:

> Besides that, the Messrs Rothschild were aware that during all these trying times I was honored by the confidence of our President and the prominent members of his Cabinet. I hold in my possession letters of the lamented Lincoln as well as of Messrs Seward and Chase all written during and after the war expressive of their appreciation of my devotion to the Union cause and of my active exertions for its success both at home and abroad. Mr Thurlow Weed the friend and adviser of these departed patriots knows the trust which they placed in me.

Mr Belmont says he knows that the Rothschilds have held and do hold very large amounts of our bonds bought through him and in Europe during the war. To this the Tribune replies that its statement was based on the direct personal authority of a prominent public man to whom the head of the London house of Rothschild made the statement. This public man being, says the Tribune "a gentleman we beg in all kindness to inform Mr Belmont whose word—or whose signature—weighs quite as much as his own either in Wall street or in Lombard street.

ORATORY

President Grant has made a speech. Some people have said he couldn't do that kind of thing. Let them hide their diminished heads while they peruse the following oration delivered at a reception in Atlantic City several days ago:

> It affords me very great pleasure to visit this watering place and for the first time in my life. I have one remark to make however and that is that the doctor is not exactly a man of the truth. He said that he would not bore us with a long speech. He did not bore us but he made the speech and therefore he has not kept strictly within the limits of his word and if I was a speaker I should like to reply to some part of his speech. Speaking of this slander about New Jersey being out of the union if that were so I would never have come here because I come here as President of the United States and without any thought to leave the country, and if what he states is true then I am liable to impeachment. There are several points in his speech that I would like to reply to in detail but not having heard it in advance it would be impossible to do so. I am very glad to be here with you.

It would be useless to attempt a criticism of the ghastly humor which distinguishes the above. If ever silence is golden it is so in the case of General Grant. The New York Herald would say he loses votes every time he opens his mouth. No more of that Hal an thou love me!

The New York Times is vexed because people refuse to understand its position on the Beecher Tilton affair. It puts aside Mr Tilton's statement and simply affirms that Mr Beecher's own letters call for explanation. It says the scandal was forced upon the public and wishes that these Brooklyn ladies and gentlemen could have managed to settle the affairs without thrusting them into the newspapers. It quotes the Springfield Republican:

> We admire the consistency of condemning the newspapers up hill and down for dealing with the Beecher scandal and then going into the pulpit and preaching about it. The fact is that the newspapers have kept silent about it for six years and never would have meddled with it if it had not been forced upon them by the clerical profession sitting in council and by the religious press.

The Times knows this to be true for it has suppressed hundreds of statements and letters on the subject during the past few years.

We do not know, of course nor can we guess whether or not that remarkable body known as the Plymouth Church Investigating Committee will give Mr Beecher's statement to the world. He was delivering it yesterday afternoon. Every patient man will be glad to know that while a good many sensible men will be tempted to say just here that the verdict of the Committee will not be worth a fig. Tilton says he will never compromise and that means that the controversy will be taken into the courts—where it should have been taken in the first instance. It is the misfortune of the good and honorable gentlemen who compose the Committee that they have [illegible] [illegible] conceded the partisan [illegible]. The American people place [illegible] [illegible] on [illegible] play.

Our troops in the South are very [illegible] [illegible] to wear the hideous forage cap of the old pattern and sooner than mar their martial appearance they purchase others of more respectable appearance from their own private resources. So Captain Henry W Sloss commanding at Savannah, Ga asks the Quarter master General to issue no more of them to his command. The insubordination of the troops is to be [illegible] on the score of [illegible] [illegible].

Can anybody think of any mean thing that Forney's Press did not say of John A. Hartranft when the latter was running for Governor of Pennsylvania? In 1872 Hartranft was a Treasury thief a political bandit a corruptionist and a briber. Yet here's the Philadelphia Press of July 1874 urging the Republicans of Pennsylvania to nominate [illegible] [illegible] this to second and worthy to succeed Governor [illegible] [illegible] Hartranft—together with other things [illegible] to the eye. Somebody has been doing a powerful sight of lying. It could not have been Forney.

The Washington D C Sunday Gazette has been saying some very [illegible] things about J H Platt Congressman from Virginia and in the [illegible] its local editor was arrested on complaint of the offended Representative. The charges were of a very [illegible] nature and the paper alleges its readiness to make them good. Platt says he intends to give it an opportunity to prove him a villain.

The St Paul Minn Pioneer gravely remarks: The Chicago papers are crowing over our Minnesota grasshoppers. They will laugh the other side of their mouth next summer. The grasshoppers are moving south east in the direction of Illinois. And when they get there—then comes St Paul's revenge.

It was a wonderful performance at Rochester N Y last Wednesday when Goldsmith Maid trotted a mile in 2:14. It is enough to make the dry bones of the old crack steers of the hippodrome rattle. 2:11 next.

The Woodhull is astounded at Mrs Tilton's antics. She says everybody acquainted with Mrs Tilton knows her to be a chronic liar. Which goes far toward establishing Mrs Tilton's character for veracity.

It is said that the friends of young Walworth the parricide will be permitted to remove him from the public insane asylum to a private one. There is a prospect that he will eventually be pardoned.

The death is announced of Col S C Faulkner one of the oldest citizens of Arkansas. He was the author of the famous dialogue and tune known as "The Arkansas Traveler."

The Washington Chronicle denies a statement that Mrs Lincoln, widow of President Lincoln is in Paris. It says she has not been abroad for several years.

The Louisville Courier Journal dubs Morton "The Rag Money Senator" and the Chicago Times vulgarly christens Carpenter "The Senatorial Stallion."

An Eastern reporter describes Mr Tilton as a man who "stands six feet and a half in his socks with hair like Absalom and legs like a giraffe."

EMIGRANTS TO OREGON

We publish the following resolutions adopted at a meeting held by the citizens of Panola county Mississippi, contemplating emigration. Judge J F Simmons the representative appointed, is at present on a visit to this State. He holds letters of unqualified endorsement from the Judges of the Supreme and Federal Courts and from prominent members of the bar of his State and of Tennessee and others. Judge S speaks in high terms of the courtesies he received from the Californians and is much pleased with the portions of the State he visited. He will return there before going home.

Sardis Miss, July 17.—At a meeting this day of citizens contemplating emigrating to the West the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted viz:

Whereas, emigration to the Pacific States would involve a heavy expense as well as serious sacrifices of property here, and wisdom requires that those who contemplate such a movement should be well advised of the character of the country the expense of moving, and every other important and material particular before going and this by one in whom they have implicit confidence: And

Whereas, the Hon J F Simmons is about starting on a tour of inspection for his own satisfaction and benefit having in view the selection of a home for himself and his excellent family and has at the request of a very large number of his fellow citizens consented to make a general examination for the benefit of all.

Be it therefore, Resolved, That having full confidence in the Hon J F Simmons we do hereby appoint him a Commissioner and representative to investigate for us and all who like us contemplate emigration—the character of the soil climate prices of lands modes and costs of transportation all the advantages and disadvantages of emigrating to the West (and particularly the State of Oregon) and all other matters in consideration therewith as would be of value and assistance to us in determining this important question and as the office is a voluntary one and without emolument we earnestly request his acceptance of it believing it will afford him pleasure to serve his fellow citizens.

Resolved, Further that we bespeak for Judge Simmons all the courtesy and assistance from those among whom he may go that it may be in their power to extend as upon his report may and probably will, depend the movement of a very large number of substantial citizens of the Southern country.

HERD OF CAMELS IN NEVADA.—On a ranch on the Carson river eight miles below the mouth of Six mile canyon is to be seen a herd of twenty six camels all but two of which were born or raised in Nevada. But two of the old herd of nine or ten brought here [illegible] years ago are now living. It would seem that the original lot fell in the hands of a hard hearted and cruel Mexican who treated them very badly overloading and abusing them. The men who now have them are Frenchmen who had formerly some experience with camels in Europe. They had no difficulty in rearing them and can now show fine healthy animals all of Washoe growth. The camel may now be said to be thoroughly acclimated in the State. The owners of the herd find it no more difficult to breed and rear them than would the experience with the same number of goats or donkeys. The ranch where they are kept is sandy and sterile in the extreme yet the animals grow fat on such prickly shrubs and bitter weeds as no other animal would touch. When left to themselves their great delight after filling themselves with coarse herbage of the desert is to lie and roll in the hot sand. They are used in packing salt to the mills in the deserts some sixty miles to the eastward. They have animals that easily pack 1,100 pounds.

PRISONERS ESCAPED.—Last evening about 7 o clock while Jailor Morril was absent down street for the purpose of procuring some medicine for the prisoners two of the jail birds—H D Palmer and Eugene St Clair—by means of a small piece of hoop-iron and a stick of wood about three feet long by two inches square cut a hole from the southwest corner of the jail to the outside by digging out the mortar and stone They were seen immediately after they had issued from the aperture by a trusty, Kennedy by name who gave the alarm but the prisoners had got up Main street and had gained too much ground to be captured the darkness of night coming on Palmer is [illegible] who stole Mr [illegible] wagon at [illegible] making his way to California turned it into ready cash and whom Officer McCoy captured by making a trip to California for him St Clair is the [illegible] that took a fancy to Mr Stott's mule over the other side of the river and induced that animal to carry him off on his back without having first obtained the consent of the owner to undertake an excursion Both men were waiting for the November term of the Circuit Court to roll round to fully satisfy themselves and the community at large whether they were guilty of peculation or not With such an illy constructed jail as this county possesses, the only wonder is that escapes have not been more common than they have been. The walls are a mere pile of brick stone and mortar thrown together and one energetic man if left to himself would, within a week be able, with the aid only of a piece of sheet iron to tear down the whole foundations of the Court House Sheriff Jeffery offers a reward of $250 for the capture and return of Palmer and $100 for St Clair As near as can be gathered the prisoners could have been engaged only about an hour and a half in digging through the wall We sincerely hope that the Sheriff may be successful in his efforts to capture the runaways and bring them back to their regular hotel in

BISHOP MERRILL.—The P C Advocate, in mentioning Bishop Merrill, who is now in this city, presiding over the present session of Conference, says "This distinguished visitor was born in Jefferson county, Ohio September 1825 and is consequently, in the forty ninth year of his age He entered the traveling connection in the Ohio Conference in 1846 when such men as Michael Marlay Jacob Young, Charles Elliott Geo W Walker W H Raper and other giants of those days were in their prime In all the important relations he was called to sustain, whether preacher in charge presiding elder or editor of the Western Christian Advocate he more than met the expectations of the people and was ever popular efficient and useful As a writer he is particularly vigorous and logical skillfully applying his arguments so as to make opponents feel quite uncomfortable His sermons are remarkably clear, instructive and argumentative On his way from Walla Walla to this city the Bishop was taken quite suddenly ill at the Dalles and although not yet himself again in physical strength, has commenced the labors of another Conference"

PASSENGERS.—The following passengers take their departure on the steamer Ajax which sails for San Francisco this morning at 4 o clock Jos Lustig Mrs Marriner, J N Harrigan and wife Mrs Peoples S Rosenblatt, Mrs E S Wass, W T Campbell Mrs G H [illegible]ick, two children and nurse, Miss S Schumaker B Selling, E Hinoke L Smith, S Mc[illegible], H Hoyt Allen Griffith J W Lysle Samuel Royes John T Dillon Mrs F W [illegible]xley, Mrs A A Barry A Barnard, S J McCormick, Miss G M Moore Mrs H Perry [illegible]son, J R Palmer M Rosenblatt Mrs [illegible]enbaum I Levy H A Young and wife, [illegible] Wingard L Kline W Jacobs, Mr Newman, Geo Heart G H Smith A R Hinds, W Jones, Frank Spinning T H Hogan Bubards Mrs Walker, J Langley, and [illegible] in the steerage

A JUVENILE WANDERER.—Yesterday, as the train came down a small boy, aged about 8 years, came on board at Gervais He told the conductor that he desired to come to Portland; and, as he had no money that officer did not like to put him off, and so allowed the chap to stay on the cars On arriving here the boy could give no satisfactory answers as to where he wished to go who he was, or who were his parents Captain Wiley, of the police force apprised of the circumstances, and took charge of the lad After being closely questioned for some time by that officer, the boy said he had an uncle living in the upper portion of the city Captain Wiley immediately started with the little truant to go to his uncle's house

NO 2's FLAG STAFF.—A number of workmen are now engaged with ropes and a combination of pulleys derrick, etc, in lowering the flag staff of Multnomah Co No 2 which has long rendered such good service for that company It became necessary to take the staff down as it would be in the way of constructing the new brick edifice, work on which will be commenced in a short time. It is one of the most straight and symmetrical staffs in the city and highly prized by the members of the Company Great care and pains will be exercised by the workmen to lower the staff without damaging or disfiguring it in any manner

NEW CODE.—We learn that the work of printing the new Code of the State as revised, annotated and codified by Judge M P Deady has been completed and the binding is progressing rapidly and will soon be finished. The last steamer brought up several specimen copies of the revised statutes Five hundred bound copies will be received on the next steamer as the first installment The remainder—2 500 copies—are now in the hands of the book binders but will all be finished and sent to the Secretary of State for distribution before the convening of the Legislature

PHOTOGRAPHIC VIEW.—We have just received a fine photographic picture of the "Good Samaritan Hospital" as it will appear when the building is finished This picture was taken by Buchtel & Stolte and is a credit to the art The "Good Samaritan Hospital" is an institution originating under the auspices of Rev Bishop Morris of the Episcopal Church and is intended as indicated by its name to pass by no suffering one Jew or Gentile that it is in the power of the institution to bless or relieve

THE OLD LAFAYETTE HOUSE.—In a few days the old engine house of Multnomah Co No 2 will be on the way to the southern end of the city It is the intention to locate the old building on the vacant block south of the Academy of the Sacred Heart and adjoining the present building of St Michael's College This has been deemed necessary in consequence of the increased number of scholars The building will be overhauled and thoroughly renovated before being ready for occupancy

"WOMAN'S WAR WITH WHISKY."—This is the title of a pamphlet now in press from the pen of the gifted authoress Mrs F F Victor, and which will shortly be issued The pamphlet, we learn will contain a complete account of the late great movement in the cause of temperance and reform This book will furnish a great many interesting and thrilling incidents of the Crusade the trial of the ladies the political aspect of the movement etc

MEETINGS.—On Saturday morning, commencing at 10 o clock the stockholders of the Northwestern Storage Shipping and Commission Company of the Patrons of Husbandry will hold their annual meeting At 4 o clock on Sunday evening a regular meeting of the St Vincent de Paul Society will be held The members of the Father Mathew Temperance Society are requested to meet at the [illegible] on Sunday morning at 7 o clock

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Twenty-Second Annual Conference.

SECOND DAY

The Conference prayer meeting was held in the church commencing at 8 o clock At half past 8 the Conference was opened by Rev W D Nichols reading the [illegible] chapter of Matthew and giving out hymn No 483 which was sung, after which prayer was offered

The roll was called by the Secretary

Rev L T Woodward announced that Dr Nelson Rounds and Gustavus Hines had died during the year when it was stated that suitable memoirs would be presented hereafter

The name of J H Adams was announced as transferred to this Conference from the Eastern Oregon and Washington Conference

The minutes of yesterday's proceedings were read and after some corrections approved

In addition to those present on yesterday we noticed Revs J W York and John Howard members of the Conference There was also in attendance a large congregation

Bishop Merrill, who occupied the chair is a fine looking well preserved specimen of a genuine Methodist preacher He looks to be still less than fifty and his fine physique and commanding presence inspires the respect of all and his firm yet kind and courteous rulings command him to the fullest confidence of those over whom he presides Commencing his ministerial life while yet but a mere boy in Ohio, he has come up from the ranks of effective itinerant ministers to the highest seat the Church can give him and gives promise of a long life of usefulness in his present high and honored position

The Bishop announced that there were charges on his table against Rev J F DeVore in addition to those contained in the case to be tried this morning, which he said would be taken up after the first case was disposed of Charges were also announced by the Bishop as being on his table against Rev I D Driver Rev W D Nichols moved that these charges be referred to a committee of five to examine and report whether there is sufficient in the charges to warrant a trial

Bro Driver in speaking on the question, announced that he courted a full investigation of all his acts private and public since he entered the Conference that Judge Thornton, who preferred the charges, had stated to some three ministers that at the time the charges were preferred, he (Thornton) believed him to be innocent and that he would drop the matter if he thought Driver would be removed from the Salem district and that he was after another man over Driver's shoulders

Judge Thornton suggested that he had preferred the charges and would like the privilege to appear before the Conference to sustain them

The Bishop suggested that when the Conference decided what course should be pursued it would be time for the prosecutor to manage the case

Rev L J Powell moved as a substitute that a constitutional committee be appointed to take the charges and try them

Bro Driver did not want his case tried by a committee but wanted it tried before the whole Conference and before the world

Bro Woodward moved that the charges lie on the table until after the trial of Bro DeVore which was carried

The Bishop announced that the next thing was the special order of the day to-wit the trial of Rev J F DeVore on the charges that had been heretofore examined by a committee and upon which he had been suspended and the case was taken up

The charges were read by the Secretary

The charge Immoral conduct, described in eleven specifications of his conduct in making the appraisement of the property of H A Webster on the Neah Bay reservation, and for certain actions and conversations with E C Kemble, Indian Inspector, and also for certain matters connected with E Turner as manager of the Advocate

After reading the charges Mr DeVore was called on to plead, and he pleaded "Not Guilty"

Revs Wm Roberts and N Doane were appointed to represent the Conference in the prosecution of the case

Rev H K Hines I Dillon, C W Todd and S H Mann, were selected by Bro DeVore as his counsel

Rev S H Todd moved that the trial proceed with closed doors before the Conference alone

Mr Hines announced that the motion was made on the responsibility of the mover alone, and Bro DeVore stated that his desire was that the matter be tried in public. The motion was withdrawn

Dr Dillon asked that the specifications which were not sustained by the committee or which being sustained did not sustain the charge be dropped

Mr Roberts announced that the eleventh specification was withdrawn, and they proposed to examine the others

Dr D thought that the defense was entitled to have such specifications dropped as a matter of right it having been determined by the Committee that they did not sustain the charge

The Bishop overruled his position, stating that the decision of the Committee did not bind the Conference in any manner

The arguments made by the counsel in this case developed the fact that there ought to be some rule prescribed confining counsel on every side to some limited number of speeches, as each side made something over half a dozen on one motion

Counsel for prosecution proceeded to read the minutes of the preliminary trial held in February last containing a citation by Wm Roberts Presiding Elder of Portland District citing the accused to appear for trial with certificates from the ministers of the Puget Sound District stating that they had investigated certain rumors against him and that it was necessary to have an examination and also the proceedings and testimony taken before the Committee upon the examination The proceedings are very voluminous They show that the accused was one of three appointed to appraise the improvements of H A Webster in the bounds of Neah Bay Reservation on Puget Sound and the proceedings of the Board showed that the Board was in session four days—two on the premises one at Steilacoom and one at Kalama that the property of Webster was appraised by the Board at $29 100 that the accused rendered a bill to the Government for services as Commissioner for thirty six days at $10 a day from the date of his commission until the award was made that R H Milroy Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Washington Territory denounced the appraisement as exorbitant, and stated that Webster had offered to take $5 000 for the same improvements within a year prior to the appraisement that E C Kemble Indian Inspector, denounced David Sires and J W Milroy as unfit persons to be employed in the positions they occupied and stated that the accused [illegible] in keeping them in position that one [illegible] swore that DeVore had appointed J W Milroy as [illegible] leader in charge of a church on the Chehalis Reservation and stated to him that if Col Kemble was not too obstinate Milroy would be retained on the reservation that G W Izer testified that he was present at a conversation between Kemble and accused at request of accused that DeVore stated that his estimates were below the other Commissioners and he had saved the Government several thousand dollars that he had marked his estimates much below the others and finally they agreed to $20 100 that he now thought it would have been better to have not yielded but he thought at the time he was doing for the best

The reading of the testimony was continued until 12 o clock when on motion it was resolved that an afternoon session be held commencing at 2 o clock to which time a recess was taken closing with the doxology and benediction by Rev N Doane

AFTERNOON SESSION

At 2 o clock the session was resumed with religious exercises conducted by Rev L T Woodward

The proceedings in the trial of Rev J F DeVore were resumed

Dr C M Sawtelle was called by the prosecution and testified as to the value of the improvements on the Webster property that he thought the improvements would cost from $15 000 to $17 000 that only one room of the house was entirely ceiled with redwood except overhead but others were partially ceiled with redwood The probable cost at the time it was made might have been $20 000 [illegible] 000 had heard it estimated as high as $40 000

A letter was read from J F DeVore dated January 1874 withdrawing his claim for services as Commissioner except for twelve days

The testimony of G W Izer recalled for the prosecution at the examination was further read stating certain conversations held in his presence by the accused and Kemble in which Kemble had stated, among other things that he came here comparatively green, unsophisticated and he might say, almost unfit for the office he held, but that he found out these things, and DeVore having been so long in the country ought to have found out more about these men than Kemble claimed to be [illegible]

A letter was read from DeVore to Kemble, in which he stated that he had come to the conclusion from the treatment he and other ministers on the Sound had received from Kemble that Kemble was right when he stated that he was too weak, green and unsophisticated to hold the office, and that he thought Kemble was a base unprincipled slanderer

Wm Roberts testified as to the conversation between Kemble and DeVore as related by Izer and confirmed Izer's testimony

On cross examination the witness said that he had stated that DeVore was a corrupt man or a very weak man

A letter from J F DeVore to J S McCain stating that he had paid Turner some money and Turner took more than he was entitled to but afterward he had found it out and returned it and was sorry for it The testimony of Turner was read stating that he was the man referred to in DeVore's letter that DeVore had paid him some money and he had taken one dollar too much by mistake and in a few minutes he had returned the money to DeVore before he had left the room He also stated that he had a conversation with Mr DeVore in which he had sought Turner's influence with the preachers to get for him (DeVore) the Chairmanship of the Publishing Committee of the Advocate A number of letters and records concerning the difference between DeVore and Turner were read but were mostly unimportant except to exhibit a spirit on the part of both of them savoring very strongly of the old man Adam

The testimony of J W Miller was read stating that he was at the last Conference and that he heard DeVore state that he did not care for a position on the Publishing Committee of the Advocate

The testimony of G W Izer again recalled was read stating that DeVore had called at the parsonage with Brother Roberts and DeVore stated that Col Kemble had removed General Milroy from the office of Superintendent of Indian Affairs of Washington Territory and that a number of prominent men including the Governor, Secretary and others wanted to have him appointed in the place, and wanted him to get the members of the Conference to sign the recommendation, he understood from the conversation, although DeVore did not so directly state, that Kemble was wanting him appointed to the place and thinking that it was a part of Kemble's plan He and Roberts signed the petition, afterward on seeing Kemble he and Roberts had withdrawn their names On seeing DeVore afterward he informed him that he thought Kemble was wanting him appointed and that he had so thought when he signed the recommendation but on learning that Kemble did not desire his appointment he and Roberts had withdrawn their names from the petition DeVore said that if he had misled them he was sorry

Wm Roberts testified as to this conversation, substantially as Izer had

J W Miller testified that in January last Gov Ferry told him that he had never signed any petition nor had he even seen any recommending Bro DeVore for the office of Superintendent of Indian Affairs of Washington Territory

The testimony of N Doane read stated that he had heard DeVore say on the floor of the last Conference that he did not care to be on the Publishing Committee

Here the testimony of the prosecution closed and the Conference adjourned, singing the Doxology with the benediction pronounced by Rev S Mathew, to meet again at half past eight in the morning when the case will be concluded

In these times when men count their coin before expending any considerable sum it is conclusive evidence that money is decidedly scarce and a man is calculating on the best and surest mode of making the most of what spare change he has Now in buying a thing the buyer reflects before making a purchase He wants to know where by expending the least money he can at the same time receive something fully worth the money expended We would advise all to want something substantial as well as cheap to call on Beck & Waldman

The use of Tobacco aggravates dyspepsia. It destroys the tone of the stomach and weakens the gastric juices which reduce the food to chyle and prepare it for the nutrition of the body Experience shows that a discontinuance of the use of tobacco and the regular employment of PLANTATION BITTERS will restore the vitality to the enfeebled organs and health will ensue

Bruises.—Man is ever liable to bruises It is hard to keep out of scrapes. But there is an infallible remedy for such afflictions in the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT It soothes the pain, removes inflammation and leaves nature free to work out a cure for the affected parts. Nearly thirty years ago this preparation was first offered to the people. As everything even good needs to be known to be appreciated it was only after a career of remarkable success that this Liniment took its present foremost place among the alleviators of pain This it retains as its increasing sale evidences. Try a bottle and learn its value

THE PEARL OF THE PHILIPPINES.

BY R H STODDARD

I felt if Margarita died
My heart was broken. And I said
She shall not die! I have tried
Once more to save her. What to do?
Then something put into my head
The Infant Jesus of Zebou!
I'll go to him, the Child Divine
Will save this only child of mine
I will present him with a pearl
And He will spare my little girl—
The largest pearl that I can find
The one that shall delight his mind
The purest best I give to you
O Infant Jesus of Zebou!
'Twas morning when I made the vow
And well do I remember now
How light my heart was as I ran
Down to the sea, a happy man
All that I passed along the way—
The woods around me and above
The plaintive cooing of the dove
The rustling of the hidden snake
The wild ducks swimming in the lake
The hideous lizards large as men—
Nothing I think escaped me then
And nothing will escape to-day
I reached the shore, untied my boat,
Sprang in and was again afloat
Upon the wild and angry sea,
That must give up its pearls to me—
Its pearls of pearls! But where to go?
West of the island of Bojo
Some six miles off there was a view
Of the cathedral of Zebou
Beneath whose dome the Child Divine
Was waiting for that pearl of mine!
Thither I went, and anchored there
Dived fathoms down—found rocks and sands
But no pearl oysters anywhere
And so came up with empty hands
Twice thrice and—nothing! 'Cruel sea
Where hast thou hid thy pearls from me
But I will have them nor depart
Until I have them for my heart
Would break and my dear child would die
She shall not die. What was that cry?
Only the eagle's scream on high
Fear not Relempago! Once more,
Down down along the rocks and sands
I groped in darkness tore my hands
And rose with nothing as before
O Infant Jesus of Zebou
I promised a great pearl to you!
Help me to find it.' Down again
It seemed forever whirled and whirled
The deep foundations of the world
Engulfed me and my mortal pain
But not forever for the sea
That swallowed would not harbor me
I rose again—I saw the sun—
I felt my dreadful task was done
My desperate hands had wrenched away
A great pearl oyster from its bed
And brought it to the light of day
Its ragged shell was dripping red
They bled so then! But all was well
For in the hollow of that shell
The pearl pear-shaped and perfect lay
My child was saved! No need to tell
How I rejoiced, and how I flew
To the cathedral of Zebou
For there the Infant Jesus stands
And holds my pearl up in his hands.
He ended. The pearl merchant said
You found your daughter better?' 'No,'
The wife of poor Relempago
Replied 'He found his daughter dead
'Twas fate' he answered. 'No' said she
'Twas God. He gave the child to me
He took the child and he knew best
He reached and took it from my breast
And in His hand to-day it shines—
The Pearl of all the Philippines!'

JUDGE DAVIS.

HIS PECULIAR STYLE ON THE BENCH

[Indianapolis Letter to the Cincinnati Commercial]

We floated around the precincts of the metropolis and bringing up in the State House found the United States Court in session Judge Davis of the Supreme Court, presiding. We spent some considerable time here all of which was to our entire satisfaction. The Judge is a character—such a character as we like to meet worse luck that we meet them but seldom. He is a man of very genial disposition, courteous in his demeanor to all people, and there is that hearty, good natured Brother Cheeryble way about him that captures those who come about him. He is a plain unostentatious person with a large reserve force of hard, common sense. Pervaded with a broad strong sense of equity that is entirely oblivious of law when it stands in the way of justice, he hammers the vitals out of a case with a vigor that leaves nothing behind but what is really the fair and square thing under all the circumstances.

When I entered the court-room in the midst of the trial to gaze upon the goodness of justice, there sat the Judge. Not upon the bench, but in a chair in the middle of the room. His coat was off, with his sleeves and his heels up, and smoking a cigar, he was listening to the argument of the important case. Hon Joseph E. McDonald who by the way, is an other character, was the counsel in the important case. He was sitting in another chair. He had another cigar. He had another coat off likewise another pair of heels up and he was arguing the important case. 'You see Judge, the fact is, that the stone which is called for by the description in the deed never had been placed there by the former proprietor and if he had'— 'Oh well, now Brother McDonald you know that it is all nonsense and what's the use talking. It doesn't make a bit of difference about the stone, and you folks ain't got any case anyhow. Here give me a light.'

So they bandied the matter backward and forward from their respective chairs. McDonald would get something up and the Judge would bat it over without ceremony. Then the lawyer would advance another proposition and the Judge would ponder and musingly say 'Well, there may be something in that. I'll think about it.' Then they would talk awhile about miscellaneous matters smoking all the time most gloriously, and the argument would be resumed.

In another case there was a foxy witness on the stand. Counsel was cross-examining. He pressed and squeezed and cork-screwed and the foxy dodged, and squirmed and evaded till the Judge who had been watching the proceeding with interest came to the conclusion that there must be a fifteenth amendment lurking about the cordwood somewhere, so he sailed in. 'Now, see here! young man you just come right out and tell all there is of it that's the best way you know. You see the jury might think you was trying to keep something back, and that ain't right—isn't right. You must remember these things only happened a year ago and it isn't reasonable you should forget 'em all—forget 'em all. It's always the best way, you know, not to be seen to be keeping things back. So you just begin at the beginning and go right along down you know and that'll be the most satisfactory, and then we'll see it's all right. That's the way! just give up the whole facts, whole facts you know.'

The foxy witness came down.

THE BIGGEST ROW YOU EVER SAW

A few evenings since a fellow rushed into Bern's saloon in a terrible state of excitement. Throwing his hat on the counter, he cried to Dan the barkeeper

'There'll be the biggest row here in a minute that you ever saw! Give me a drink, quick.'

Dan set out the bottle, and while the fellow helped himself, began to look at his six-shooter and got his club ready. Leaving his hat on the counter the fellow ran to the door, looked out, then rushed back to the bar and said

'Yes, in less than half a minute there'll be a h—l of a time here! Give me another drink quick!'

And seizing the bottle he proceeded to help himself. He then took up his hat and was coolly marching off when Dan called out

'See here you—you fellow there. What's this about a row? You come back here and pay for those drinks or I'll club you half to death!'

'There you go!' cried the fellow. 'There you go. Didn't I say there would be a fearful row here in a minute? I knew it, and there you go.'

Dan saw the point.

'Look here,' said he, 'you come back and take another drink if you want it but I wish it distinctly understood that this is the last row you ever raise in this house.'

'Don't care if I do settle up in that way,' said the fellow grinning amiably, as he returned to the bar.

BELLEW THE ELOCUTIONIST —A London correspondent says that previous to his death, J M C Bellew the elocutionist, had suffered so acutely from heart disease that he had not been able to lie down for a week. He was also so much wasted away that none of those who saw and admired him on the occasion of his tour through the United States would have recognised in him the handsome elocutionist. His remains were laid in the Roman Catholic portion of the cemetery of Kensal Green most of the witnesses being old parishioners of Bellew when he was in Protestant orders. The amount collected for his relief did not exceed £500

Wheat in Liverpool by mail advices from San Francisco 11s 3d@11s 5d for average California and 11s 7d@12s 3d for club

The condition of our local money market is unchanged in important particulars. The wheat market has yet made but little demand on the surplus available means and the recent rains have rendered the activity expected a matter of still further delay. There is no likelihood that the demand will be greater than the supply will be adequate to meet

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—This cereal of the new crop is coming in very slowly for sale. Buyers do not seem to urge the market although there are now in the river five foreign bound vessels supposed to have come here seeking cargoes of wheat and four of them under charter prior to arrival. A few sales have been effected during the week at $1 45 per cental, and we may expect some movement ere long if exporters are to make a concession of the difference which now exists between them and holders but if the latter are to give way trade may be dull for some time. None of the vessels here have yet begun to load

FLOUR—The stocks are small but owing to a diminished demand for shipping caused by the incoming of the product of the new wheat in California the requirements of the trade here are easily met. A good article of extra is in fair supply jobbing at $5 25 ℔ bbl but a few brands of standard qualities are held at $5 50. Common country make is in the market in fair quantities for the season at $4 75@5 fine to superfine quotable at $4@4 50

OATS—The market is inactive in this cereal and receipts are falling off the shipping demand being rather duller. The quotations furnished are 37½@40c ℔ bushel. The new crop is everywhere reported as yielding well and prices are more likely to depreciate than advance. The local demand is well supplied from the stocks on hand and current receipts.

BARLEY—But very few transactions are noted and these mostly to supply the local demand for brewing. Best lots are worth $1 40@1 45 ℔ cental including sacks inferior $1 12½@1 40 for feed

FEED—The stocks on hand here are quite small, compared with former periods in the season but are still adequate to the current demand which is almost entirely local and as always light at this time in the summer. Sales are slow at the current rates which are $12 ℔ ton for bran shorts $17@18 chopped middlings &c $20

HAY—There is a great abundance of the new crop of timothy offering at $10@11 ℔ ton baled, or $8@10 for loose from wagons. The demand, except for local consumption is very dull

POTATOES—There is no lack either in quantity or variety of the new crop now coming to hand. Prices range from 37½@50c ℔ bushel

ONIONS—Choice yellow of the new crop command 2 cents ℔ ℔ but common lots are quotable at 1½ cents. The receipts are limited

DRIED FRUIT—The demand for apples is somewhat brisker and prices have slightly advanced. We quote dried in sacks 7c ℔ ℔ in kegs 7½. Plums without pits, 13@14c with pits 6c and dull

BACON—This article is scarce in the market. Bacon 12 cents hams 15@16c shoulders 9@10c. Side meats are in better request at 10@14c. The receipts of the past few days have hardly been up to average

LARD—A fair article is in good demand at 15c ℔ ℔ either in kegs or tins.

BUTTER—The market is fairly supplied and prices for such as is commonly shipped range from 15@22c ℔ ℔. The best brought to market is used in the local trade and when not delivered on contract is quotable at 25@30c.

CHEESE—The trade is quiet and the demand well supplied at our former quotations

EGGS—For a long time San Francisco has been receiving her supplies of this article largely from the East but recently that trade has received a back set, in the way of large lots in such miserable condition as to prove a serious loss to shippers. Hence the demand for Oregon eggs is much improved. Our market is quotable firm at 28 cents ℔ dozen

CHICKENS—The receipts of the past five days have been larger and prices are a little weaker. Choice lots of grown selling at $4 and spring at $2 75@3 ℔ dozen. Ducks tame $4@6

FRESH MEATS—We quote choice young steers on foot at 5@6c ℔ ℔ common lots 4@5c. Most of the arrivals now are in excellent condition. Mutton sheep per head quotable at $2 25@3. Dressed hogs nominal at 6@7c. Demand not active

HIDES—Choice dry quotable at 15@16c ℔ ℔ green 6@6½c culls, 11@11½c. The shipments and receipts are large

WOOL—There are no transactions worthy of note now occurring though occasionally a remnant of the spring clip reaches the market, and if of prime quality and in good condition sells readily at current rates which are 26@28 cents.

Shipping Intelligence.

The barkentine Melancthon having discharged her cargo will proceed down the river with dispatch, to load with salmon and lumber for San Francisco

The ship Orissa is still discharging ballast at the wharf

The vessels Moonbeam Hermine and Garibaldi are all lying at Flanders wharf awaiting charters

The steamer Ajax will sail to morrow evening for San Francisco with a full freight and passengers

The schooner Hera has completed discharging cargo and has gone down to Weidler's mill to load with lumber for San Francisco

The schooner Mila Bona has discharged cargo and is moored at Carter's wharf

It is probable that the Phil. Sheridan of the Star Packet Line will go on berth at San Francisco in a few days, for Portland

The bark Mary Bell Roberts is now down the river loading with salmon at one of the fisheries

Yesterday morning the schooner Dreadnought was towed down the river by the Beaver to one of the fisheries where she will receive a cargo for San Francisco

The barkentine Webfoot will sail from Knappton for San Francisco in a few days with 400 000 feet of lumber

The vessels Arbutus and Ida F Taylor are both reported in the river. These vessels come hither to carry away cargoes of grain but have not been chartered as yet. They will probably remain down the river some days awaiting orders.

THE UNDERSIGNED THANKING THE PUBLIC for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon that favorite Summer Resort the past season informs Visitors that

The Hotel is Now Open for the Reception of Guests.

Many improvements dictated by the past year's experience, have been made conducive to the comfort and pleasure of visitors. Among the many are our Large Swings for the little folks. Shuffle Boards a splendid exercise for Ladies. Quoit Grounds for Gentlemen. Horseback Trail to the top of Grand Old Tillamook. Croquet Ground as usual. The River Fleet of Boats is increased to ten in number and the subscriber takes pleasure in informing his aquatic friends that he has constructed a Splendid Boat, capable of carrying thirty persons with comfort. In fact nothing has been left undone to make this truly sanitary spot the most pleasant and attractive upon the Pacific coast.
